Little opposition to well operation

By Bill Bagby

GRANITE CITY — Support was voiced Wednesday night for a proposed well that could help ease underground water seepage problems.

About 75 people attended public meeting on the well July 11 at the Harvel Brown Recreation Center. Moderator was Nameoki Township Trustee Norm Hall.

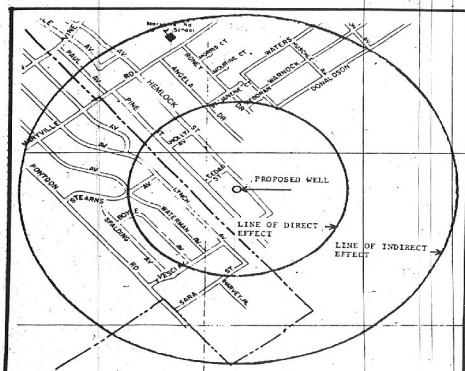

Also on the dais were Mayor Von Dee Cruse, Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs Sr. and members of the Saltanard District Director Walter Greathouse.

CRUSE, BRIGGS and Greathouse signed an agreement June 3 for a one-year test operation of the well, whereby each entity will pay one-third of installation and operating costs.

The well is located between Hemlock Avenue and Pine Street on property owned by Clarence and Jacqueline Cooper. It is the same well the Army Corps of Engineers used in a recent 48-hour test.

Hall explained the well would only help to eliminate the seepage of underground water, and not seepage of surface water or sanitary sewer water.

Support and anger are expressed at public forum

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Support for District 9 Superintendent Max Redmond and anger at some members of the Granite City School Board were expressed Thursday night at a public forum held at Granite City Township Hall.

About 225 people filled the hall to express their opinions and discuss possible action against the board including signing recall petitions.

The forum started at 7 p.m., a half-hour before a special meeting of the school board was to begin at the district's offices at 20th and Adams streets.

BOARD MEMBER Dave Partney spoke to the crowd before leaving for the school board meeting.

"I'm only interested in one thing — to see a good school system here," he said.

Partney said he called Board President Dewey Melton earlier in the week requesting that the school board meeting be canceled. Partney said Melton told him he polled the board and found the members wanted to have the meeting.

Partney, in responding to a question about the board's executive sessions, said, "It's being used to kick the hell out of Dr. Redmond."

DAVE SCHERMER, one of the organizers of the meeting, served as moderator for the forum. He told the crowd he was not involved in the school board issue for political gain.

"I have no intention to run for the school board," he said.

Schermer was asked by a member of the audience if the board was trying to fire Redmond.

GILBERT WALMSLEY Schermer said Walmsley told him that he wasn't after Redmond's job.

"This has been carrying on like this for 20 years," said Mack Johnson, another organizer.

JOHNSON said the board was "guilty of gross misconduct" and should resign.

During the time he was at a school board meeting last week, he said his wife received 15 threatening phone calls.

Johnson had the idea of the recall petition, but explained Illinois statutes do not provide for recall of school board members.

A petition for the recall of each of the board members was made available at the forum.

ANOTHER PETITION was circulated stating the board should establish a committee comprised of citizens and board members to review, analyze and identify problem areas in the board/superintendent relationship.

It also stated support for Redmond, saying every effort should be extended to retain him as superintendent until time has elapsed to allow adequate evaluation of his overall job performance.

The group also suggested the board move its meetings to a larger building so more people can attend and voice their opinions.

"Dr. Redmond is one we teachers can go to and he cares," said Marilyn Rongey, a fifth-grade teacher at Frohardt School.

"We've got a man who's trying to do a good job and he's being barred."

"I think you lose a great educator you have in your district now," said former board member Ruth Lahr.

"The board can still work with Max Redmond with a change of complexion," said Tom Miosky, another former board member.

He said the public should also voice its opinions to local political officials.

"You go to a Sam Wolf or you go to a Von Dee Cruse and say politics don't belong in the school system," he suggested.

"THE PROBLEM will only be solved by the people within the district," said attorney Eric Robertson.

He said the recall petition would not be the solution to the problem, and suggested people either write

Board discusses executive session report

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Newspaper reports containing information regarding a June 3 executive session were discussed at a special School Board meeting Thursday evening.

Board members said the Press-Record/Journal did not facts straight in a June 3 report about a June 3 closed session of the school board.

Information on the meeting was provided by member David Partney, who newspaper made an attempt to contact all board members before printing the story.

The pump will operate only when the ground water level rises enough to cause seepage in the basement of homes, Hall said. The only way to determine this is by residents keeping piezometer readings.

Several residents said they were told the ground water was coming from Lake Michigan. However, Hall said, the Army Corps of Engineers had determined the water was from the Mississippi River.

(See WELL, Page 9A)

Member Alan Crider corrected the newspaper.

Crider said he did not tell the superintendent to cancel a June 19 tea in Dr. Max Redmond's honor. He said the newspaper showed bad taste in reporting his comments.

"I suppose I did," he said.

When contacted by the Press-Record/Journal June 7 about information which would be printed the following day, Crider hung up on the caller.

Crider said his review last Monday of tapes made during the Pres-3 executive session confirmed his belief that he had not ordered Dr. Redmond to cancel the tea.

Board member Jolene Traviss-Terrell asked what the procedure for examining tapes was. She said she had asked to listen to the tapes in the past and had not been permitted.

Conduct of executive sessions has been a major point of contention among board members since January.

"This school board has been us-

GRANITE CITY — A motion to exclude news media from executive sessions failed Thursday night.

Board President Dewey Melton abstained.

The motion, made by Alan Crider and seconded by Kelly Hogan, was tied 3-3 when it came to Melton.

Melton said he was not ready to make a decision to exclude the press, but he felt there had been abuse of executive session privilege on the part of the newspaper.

Votes to exclude the press were Monroe Worthen, Alan Crider and Kelly Hogan.

GRANITE CITY — A heart transplant is giving a Madison man a second chance at life.

HER FATHER had nothing but praise for surgeon Dr. Michael DeBakey and cardiologist Dr. Robert Cardoza of the Cosley-Frazier Heart Transplant Team, she said. "He's so grateful to them," she said.

The occurrence of heart transplants is becoming more frequent, said Connie Cance, cardiac transplant coordinator at Barnes Hospital.

She said 719 transplants were performed in the United States last year.

IN THE PAST four years, doctors at the St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital and Texas Heart Institute have performed 120 transplants — 48 last year and 36 so far this year, said Dr. Bud Frazier, director of the heart transplant unit at the institute.

Alaska leading Sunbelt state according to trucking company figures

The Press-Record/Journal is indebted to Illinois Trucking Association Inc. for shipping to us some statistics from Allied Van Lines' 18th annual intercity moved analysis of migration patterns. We'd like to say it paints a rosy Illinois picture; we'd like to say that but we can't, because it doesn't.

Illinois is second only to populous California in the number of outbound shipments of household goods. California not only leads in outbound but also in inbound relocations, and it is a net gainer, Illinois isn't.

We hasten to say that the Illinois population is down, about which nobody argues, is a different matter than the question of who is at fault, about which there is much debate in the election year. (Democrats blame the Republican state administration for the continuing economic slump; Republicans blame Democrats' dominance in the legislature, and say that without GOP executive leadership times might be even worse.)

Alaska reigned as the nation's leading "magnet state" for the third year in a row. Don't ask us why; we don't like igloos and bitter weather, but obviously somebody does.

A magnet state is so designated if a minimum of 55 percent of its total relocation activity consists of moves into the state. Nearly 160,000 interstate furniture shipments were handled during the past year by Allied, the world's largest mover of families. The company didn't disclose how many moves were by dogsleds.

Losing their magnet-state status in 1985, and joining 17 other states which had a relative inbound-outbound balance, were Arkansas, Hawaii and Maine.

The largest percentage of outbound migration in 1985 was recorded by North Dakota. New additions to the predominantly outbound states included Delaware, Montana, Nebraska and Utah.

One of the great freedoms enjoyed in the United States but not everywhere in the world is the opportunity to move across the country without getting governmental permission.

But, "Good grief! Anything can be overdone," Frostbelt states like Illinois might well say to those sunny and growing states that line America's western, southern and southeastern borders.

Maybe we ought to think about creating a beach. Or a few dog sleds.

Small newspapers flourish

By Paul Harvey

"Frequently you read that another big-city newspaper bites the dust."

There remain only 131 cities in the United States with more than one daily paper.

Meanwhile, the number of smaller towns with suburban newspapers is at a record high — 7,711. Circulation of the smaller (weekly) newspapers has doubled since 1960; presently 50 million.

How do they do it?

I remember how William Allen White used to be able to make his comparatively tiny Emporia (Kansas) Gazette nationally significant by meeting its readers where they lived.

If there is a secret to the success of today's smaller newspapers, it is to come closer to hominess than white demanded.

On my desk is a weekly newspaper from somewhere. Where is less significant than what it has to say.

Prominent are pictures of a local school girl, plus seven fine young ladies and two young men in their mortarboards.

On page four I read that Nora Lee and Andy have had weekend company and that Kayla, her way to Dell City, stopped in with her darling new baby.

There is a solid editorial discussion about whether the county really wants to be a nuclear waste dump.

But there is also a recipe for green chili enchiladas.

On page 10, the 19 graduates from another school, 15 from this one.

And many of them listed in this issue gave their space to graduation congratulations. Even

Father's Day not just for fathers

Today is Father's Day and I'm going to brag about my boys.

I must admit, they're really not mine.

I'm single, and plan to stay that way for a long while. So I don't have any children of my own.

However, I make it a practice to take a child under my wing for a while when I get that "fatherly" feeling.

This works out fine, except I can't claim them as an exemption on my income tax return at the end of the year.

But about my boys:

For a little over a year, I have had the pleasure of teaching a class of 11-15 at the church I attend last Sunday was my last week to teach.

With my job here at the Press-Record/Journal I just don't have the time to prepare a lesson every week. So I decided to take some time off from teaching.

The class is comprised of one girl and five boys. My boys.

Every Sunday, I would walk into the classroom and there would be my boys listening to the stereo, just waiting for me to tell them to turn it off.

Usually they would just turn the volume down and tell me it was off. But I knew it wasn't.

Then it's story time and for the next 10 minutes I'd listen to their wild adventures at school and home.

Then we'd finally get into the lesson. It's a good thing I really wasn't prepared because by the time we started the lesson, half the time was over.

It's hard to admit, I've learned more from my boys than the teacher's book which comes with the lesson.

I remember last summer when we had a lesson on a harlot in the Bible.

The County Land and Cattle Company — and you know they can ill afford it.

The article about the state fair is the same thing to bring them there. Local Chamber of Commerce doings are covered adequately and interestingly.

And the horseshoe tournament over at Jay's Shell Station.

It's registration time for kindergartens and preschools. The back-page trading post column includes Bob Carpenter's '81 Chevy.

If this implies that the 20 pages are all trivials and no substance, it wasn't meant to.

They include a highly relative travel column, not subjected to drugs; it delineates the problem as succinctly as anything I have read on the subject — and quotes local lawmen on how parents can help deal with it.

I am properly respectful of the work of the local wire services which feed newspapers what they consider newsworthy, but I would consider myself poorly informed on the facts of life and living if I were unable, everyday, to peruse an assortment of smaller town newspapers.

They mirror America the Beautiful as nothing impersonal can.

"What's a harlot?" they asked innocently.

Afraid I explained what a harlot was. I heard almost every slang term in the world for a harlot.

Some I didn't even know.

But the best terms were when we closed the lesson book and just talked.

This is where I learned the most.

I learned the youth of today are really still just kids, but are facing a dull life problem and responsibilities.

I learned how important it is for youth to think they have to "fit in" with their friends, but yet they sometimes keep their individuality.

But most importantly, I learned you don't have to be married and have your own children to be a father.

Just because children have their own parents, it doesn't mean they don't need somebody else a little older with some insight into life.

I believe many young people get into problems because they don't have somebody else to talk to.

It's going to be different today when I step into church, knowing my boys will be there but somebody else will be teaching them.

I guess I feel like a parent whose children have "left the nest."

But I'll always feel like a father to Kraig, Grant, Joseph, Blake and Joel — my boys.

BAC trustees expected to name trustee

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A replacement for Elizabeth Bartosokas will be the topic of a special meeting of Belleville Area College trustees Friday night at the college's Belleville campus, 2500 Main St.

Bartosokas resigned her seat on the board May 23 for personal reasons. Trustees have 30 days to name a replacement for Bartosokas before the task is turned over to St. Clair County Regional School Superintendent Martha O'Mally.

Because more than 25 percent of the college's student enrollment comes from the Madison County area, trustees are expected to give serious consideration to a candidate from that area.

Currently, all trustees reside in the Belleville area.

"Madison County will be given serious consideration," said trustee Larry Reinneck.

The six trustees remaining on the board are evenly divided over whether to continue college operations under the present administration of Chancellor Bruce Wissore.

Six residents of Madison County, five of whom are from Granite City, have expressed interest in filling Bartosokas' position.

A similar vacancy occurred in late 1978 when Robert Harris of Granite City resigned his seat on the board.

In an effort to patch relations between trustees, President Wayne Reynolds has asked trustees to refrain from promoting a negative image of the school. He also requested that Wissore receive a letter from college spokeswoman Kathy O'Dell expressing concern about articles which have appeared about the college in recent weeks.

O'Dell believes that the district's 11 percent drop in enrollment can be traced, in part, to negative media coverage.

"We want to invite students into a friendly environment," O'Dell said. She said a "street fight" between trustees would be self-defeating.

Trustee Elizabeth Jenner is alleged to have threatened court action against Wissore in May if her choice for a vice chancellor of the college was ignored.

Jenner supports Larry Reinneck, the personnel director, for the position. The board will conduct a nationwide search to replace James J. Himes, who is retiring at the end of this month.

Venice awards painting, athletic field contracts

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Freshly painted classrooms and a new athletic field will greet students returning to classes next fall at the Venice public schools.

Several other improvements to the buildings also will be attempted during the summer months, the Board of Education decided at Thursday night's meeting.

PAINTING BIDS for work on the three grade school building areas were awarded to Whole House Construction Inc. of Belleville for the 1988 main building containing seven classrooms, four restrooms, ceilings and the principal's office, on a bid of $2,242, and the nine-classroom 1988 addition on a bid of $1,947.

Willie Gray of Venice, a former VHS student, received a contract to paint the 1954 addition, which includes six classrooms, industrial arts and home economics rooms, on a low bid of $900.

A LONG DISCUSSION preceded the painting bids being accepted. The board wanted to wait to complete the work within a specified time period and having sufficient insurance to cover workers will be checked.

Keck Painting and Decorating of Granite City, which painted the high school building last summer, John M. C. Doherty's Future Remodeling of Madison and Schmidt Painting Co. of Collinsville also submitted bids.

Also accepted was a $3,750 bid from Luskern's Wrecking and Excavating Co. to reconstruct the athletic field at the rear of the Venice public schools.

SOFTBALL AND BASEBALL diamonds will be constructed in the area that previously only contained a baseball field.

The present diamond is in serious disrepair and will be relocated under the proposed plan, a subject discussed by board members for nearly two years. Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers reminded the board.

Proposed summer maintenance and beautification projects will include painting, floor repairs and carpeting the grade school principal's office.

INSTALLING SUNLIGHT screening film on windows at the rear of the school building also is planned, along with repainting and marking the school's marquee sign, refinishing or replacing classroom desks and possible purchase of new desks for the first grade and typing class.

The roofs on all buildings will be inspected and water damage and leaking repaired. Block-topped areas will be sealed and repairs made to surface cracks.

Ridge Poultry Farm was awarded a contract to supply eggs to the school district in 1986-87 and Prairie Farms Dairy will furnish milk. Both firms were the sole bidders.

Contracts to supply gas and oil and bread products to the district were withheld until clarification of bid language is obtained.

Lake level will begin dropping

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

METROPOLITAN CITY — Water levels in Horseshoe Lake are expected to begin dropping this weekend, said Metro-East Sanitary District Director Walter Greathouse, last week.

MESD stored surface water in the lake through May to control pumping costs, Greathouse said Thursday.

Because water levels were slightly below normal, Greathouse said he received complaints from neighboring farmers who could not use their fields.

"We have a pumping station in East St. Louis that costs $30,000 a month to operate," Greathouse said. "As soon as the river goes below 19 feet, we can quit pumping and go to gravity flow."

The "gravity" flow doesn't come down, Greathouse said.

Water levels averaged 21 feet through May. The crest on May 23 was 30 feet, just two feet below flood stage, Greathouse said.

the water level would not solve his problem because before the water level began dropping, he received complaints from lake concessioners that the water level was too low for boats to operate.

Greathouse said that once the water began dropping, it was likely to remain low until winter.

BAC to drop committees

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Committees may become a thing of the past at Belleville Area College.

Wayne Reynolds, president of the Board of Trustees, said last week he planned to ask they be dropped at a special meeting Monday night.

Reynolds said he wants to drop the committees because, as president, he acts as an ex-officio member to all such groups.

Because the Illinois Open

Meetings Act states that if a majority of a quorum of a government meets, it must first provide notice to the public.

Reynolds is concerned he might be in violation of the law if he talks to another board member on the phone.

"Someone might complain," Reynolds said. "I don't want to do anything that casts this college in a bad light."

Reynolds said board attorney Tom Alvey agreed the potential for a complaint was there, no matter what he did.

"I don't want to run around with the Open Meetings Act," Reynolds said.

Nursing home week observed in May

GRANITE CITY — Programs were held last month at two local nursing homes in honor of National Nursing Home Week.

Thomas Mortuaries Ltd. sponsored an "Italian day celebration" for the residents of Colonial Haven Nursing Home, and a "Singo day" for residents of The Colonades Nursing Home.

"It's important to give something back to the community and especially to those who are part of Granite City history," said Bill Thomas Jr., who attended both events.

"We at Thomas Mortuaries hope, not only to continue the tradition of National Nursing Home Week every year, but to do something throughout the year for the residents of Granite City,"

Parks offer music

GRANITE CITY — The Park District "Music Under the Stars" summer choruses will present their first concert of the season Tuesday, June 17, at 8 p.m. at the front of Wilson Park, 27th and Delmar streets.

The 40 members will present a variety of easy listening songs from Broadway shows to music of the 1930s and 1940s.

The children's chorus will present "Happy Talk" from the musical "South Pacific"; the "Mickey Mouse March"; and "Mousercise"; and "Swinging on Star."

The adult chorus will perform a medley from "South Pacific" and "My Fair Lady"; "From This Moment On"; "Hello Again"; "The Golden Age of Broadway" which includes "Lullaby of Broadway"; "42nd Street" and "Strike Up the Band" among other tunes; "Ready to Take a Chance Again"; a collection of '60s songs including ing homes to show that we care," Thomas said.

The American Health Care Association proclaimed May as Older Age Month and May 11-18 as National Nursing Home Week in the midwest with the theme "Love Is Ageless."

The purpose of the week is to inform the public about long-term health care facilities and to encourage the community to become involved in improving the quality of life for the residents of nursing homes.

Merchants participating in the events were Jerry's Cafeteria and Catering, Ravanello's Restaurant, Winner's Circle and A Taste of Italy in Granite City and Busy Bee Bakery in Madison.

under stars

"Both Sides Now"; "Downtown"; "Moon River"; and "Blame It on Vivian"; "Hallelujah"; "Break and Always on My Mind" and "Always on My Mind".

The concerts are free to the public and ample seating is provided by the Park District. In the event of rain, the concert will be moved to the ice rink.

Proceeds from the next concert begin on Thursday, June 19. New members are welcome at that time.

Senior committee to look for staff person

By Bill Bagby
Staff Writer

GRANITE CITY — A part-time staff person will be sought to assist Granite City's senior citizens committee in assessing information it has gathered.

At a meeting June 11 at City Hall, the committee formed a subcommittee to search for a staff person.

The subcommittee, consisting of Chairman Bill Burecky, Secretary Nan Henderson and committee member Emelye Alford, will contact Belleville Area College to determine if BAC has a person qualified for the position.

THE STAFF PERSON will be required to visit area agencies providing senior citizen services. He will determine services being offered, sources of funding for the agency, and the type of staff the agency has.

The staff person will then submit a written report of his findings within six months from the beginning of the contract with the committee.

The report will help determine any senior services being duplicated and services not being offered at all, Burecky said.

Salary for the position will be $3.50 per hour for 20 hours per week according to a job description. Mileage reimbursement will be paid at 20 cents per mile.

THE COMMITTEE agreed at a meeting last month that a staff person was needed, but questioned the legality of entering into a contract with a part-time worker.

However, the committee learned in a letter from Township Attorney William Schooley that it could legally hire a staff person under provisions of Illinois Revised Statutes.

Money for the salary will come from the town fund, with approval from the township board, Schooley said.

"I think it's our responsibility to hire people," Henderson said. "We need someone who is not emotionally and politically involved."

The committee is scheduled to meet to discuss its subcommittee's findings at 3 p.m. Wednesday, July 16, in the second-floor courtroom of City Hall.

Q. Are certificates of deposit good investments now that interest and investment rates seem to be falling back?

A: Traditionally, certificates of deposit have had two real and solid benefits for the investor which other investment sources have not been able to offer. First, of course, is the fact that certificates of deposit are federally insured up to $10,000. As we've said many times, this point alone should make certificates of deposit very worthwhile. But, as you mentioned, rates are falling. This, of course, will also effect such investments as money market funds. Certificates of deposit, on the other hand, offer an edge when interest rates fall: C.D.s allow you to lock into the current rates for the next few months or years for whatever the term of the certificate. These two points: Federally insured funds and constant, locked-in interest rates, make C.D.s an on-going good investment.

GC student picked for math, science academy

A Granite City, Ill., High School student, is one of 214 candidates invited to enroll at the Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy for its first class of students in the fall of 1986.

The Academy, a three-year public school created through Senate Bill 736 in the fall of 1985, is located in Aurora.

"It will open on Sept. 8 with the initial class. The class is representative of the unique population of Illinois in terms of diverse geographic and ethnic composition," a spokesman said.

Academy staff members expressed great satisfaction in the number of talented applicants who responded.

Dr. Clifford Wing, professor of psychology at Duke University, served as a consultant for the Academy in the total student selection process. He said, "In my experience, no state school has ever, in this short time frame, attempted to select a group as a talented group. The group, in fact, made selection a difficult task."

Borden Mace, interim director of the Academy, said, "The initial selection committee ranked students based on a review of multiple accomplishments and evaluations by teachers of science and mathematics, grade point averages, class rank and other criteria without the bias of seeing SAT (scholastic aptitude test) scores — an unprecedented process of selection for comparable academic achievement."

"Accomplishment was based on individual performance within the framework of interpersonal relationships, communication skills, academic achievement, and accomplishment in mathematical and scientific endeavors."

"Each file was read by three individuals before ratings were made. Only thereafter were SAT scores introduced."

"Dr. Wing said, "There are solid reasons for assessing accomplishments apart from and in addition to taking into account tests of academic aptitude and grade."

"Recognized accomplishments are often the best single predictors of future accomplishments."

"Individuals can have clearly defined peaks and valleys in academic achievement. Assessment systems must be flexible enough to encompass the specialists as well as the generalists or multi-accomplished."

"Russell Harrell, son of Iva Harrell and the late Dean Harrell of 4821 Warnock Ave., has graduated from the University of Missouri-Rolla with a bachelor degree in metallurgical engineering. He has accepted a position with Caterpillar Co. in Peoria. He graduated in 1981 from Granite City High School North."

Music education's crisis to be topic

A one-day symposium on "Music Education in the Schools — A Crisis" will be held at SIUE on Saturday, June 21. The event has been organized and will be chaired by Dr. George Van Camp, director of choral activities at SIUE. It will start at 9:45 a.m. in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center.

"There are many reasons why music in schools across the nation is not enjoying the support and the musical education we did," Van Camp said. "We are going to explore these and seek solutions on a practical level."

Prof. Richard Colwell of the University of Illinois will open the symposium, discussing the desired participation of music students in Illinois compared with five or 10 years ago. There will be a panel discussion on the question, "Why Music in the Schools?"

During the lunch hour, students from the SIUE String Development Program under the direction of Prof. John Kendall will perform.

The early afternoon will be reserved for representatives from 11 different groups interested in various aspects of music education.

Students, parent support groups, high school vocal directors, persons concerned with the teaching and performance of stringed instruments, and directors of elementary instrumental organizations.

The symposium will conclude with a final session in which legislators and school officials will offer their views on "Lobbyists, Legislation, Laws and Learning."

There will be no admission charge, and interested persons are invited. Participants will be honored guests of the university.

Space limitations will allow for a maximum of 150 participants.

For information and reservations, Van Camp can be reached at 692-2024 through June 16.

Burns challenging drunk driving law

An Edwardsville attorney facing a drunken driving charge in Michigan has filed another challenge to the new drunken driving law.

Charles R. Burns, who also is a member of the Madison County Board, claims the new law is unconstitutional. He asks for dismissal of the case of a client charged with driving under the influence of Gail Carpenter, 28.

Grant R. Whittman, 25, of Edwardsville, was charged after an arrest on Village Drive in Glen Carbon. He blew .18 percent on a Breathalyzer test, court records say. Legal proof of intoxication in Illinois is .10.

Burns says in a motion filed this month in Madison County Circuit Court that the DUI law is unconstitutional because it:

- Violates a separation of powers doctrine in issuing driving permits to DUI offenders. Judges issue permits to DUI offenders, he says, while other offenders get permits from the Illinois secretary of state.

The motion adds that the law "attempts to place the secretary of state's office within the judicial branch of government" because the office reviews driving permits and can overturn a judge's decision.

2 E. Madison men charged in stabbing

MADISON — Madison County authorities are continuing their investigation into a stabbing at a local tavern yesterday.

Stanley Wells, 24, and his brother, Jeffery, 23, both of East Madison, were charged with aggravated battery in the incident, a Madison County Sheriff's Department spokesman said.

The stabbing occurred Saturday, May 17, at the Cloverleaf Tavern in the Cloverleaf Addition near Madison. Deputies said there was a large gathering of people in front of the tavern, and two men argued and the stabbing occurred.

The victim, James Crawford of Fairview Heights, was a patron at the tavern at the time of the incident. He was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Stanley Wells is being held in the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Smile, you have a library

GRANITE CITY — An open house and dedication ceremony were held at Prairie Elementary School to celebrate the opening of the school's new library. The ceremony coincided with National Library Month, according to Nancy Marti, principal.

The new library is located in what was the boys' locker room when Prather was a junior high school.

The entire project, which took two years to complete, was first suggested by Mrs. Joyce Tracy and Mrs. Wilma Bono, both teachers at Prather. With the help of many parents, the books were sorted, categorized and shelved. Renovation work to a school locker room was done by the maintenance department of District 9.

Details of the ceremony included announcement of the winner of a name-the-library contest. Each student, teacher and parent was encouraged to submit suggestions for the name. Jamie Partney, a second grade student, was presented a book for the winning suggestion, "The Read and Return Room."

Plaques were presented to the library by the Prather Parent-Teacher Association to recognize various groups for their help in setting up the library.

The recognized included Christine Arguello, Jim Barnes, Linda Austin, Joy Bohnenstiel, Wilma Bono, Diane Brockman, Barb Carkuff, Anna Hanke, Cheryl Huffstutter, Laura Ramsey, Jeanne Remer, Janice Weller, Alice Perkins, Melvin Winnie and Debbie Passig, for their help with organizing the books.

for their renovation work.

A third plaque was presented to recognize the name of the library, members of the board of education, Superintendent Max Redmond, Principal Nancy D. Marti, PTA President Jim Barnes and Jamie Partney.

As the plaque was cut by Dr. Redmond, Miss Marti and Jamie Partney, a poem, "The Library," was read by Robert Burns, third grade teacher.

Following the cutting of the ribbon, all students were able to tour the library and each received a bookmark which said, "Smile, you have a library."

Illinois-Japan workshops set

Two workshops aimed at teaming Illinois firms with Japanese companies will be offered to automobile parts manufacturers June 18 in Rockford and June 19 in Bloomington. Both are set for 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"It became clear during our meeting with Toyota and Mitsubishi on the Diamond-Star Motors Corp. project — and from information gathered from a mail survey of Illinois auto parts vendors and suppliers — that Japanese and U.S. firms are well interested in joint venture opportunities with their corporate counterparts," Gov. James Thompson said. "These seminars will provide an ideal opportunity to bring the two groups together."

Each workshop will consist of two sessions. The first session will focus on "just-in-time" inventory and the procurement methods used by Diamond-Star and Chrysler. Presentations will be given by company procurement and management officials.

The second session will provide information on forming a joint venture. Speakers will be from Illinois firms specializing in this field.

On April 28, 1986, National Steel replaced the century-old conflict between steel labor and management with a new approach.

Cooperation.

The union has committed itself to increasing productivity. And in return, National has committed itself to guaranteeing employment security for its workers.

But the innovations only begin there.

While other steel companies attack costs through temporary wage and benefit reductions, National's agreement instead focuses on more lasting solutions. Ways to increase productivity. Improvements in quality and yield. Reductions in labor cost-per-ton.

In return, our employees will enjoy employment security without the threat of layoffs, a benefit that once only Japanese steelworkers enjoyed. Our employees will participate in a profit-sharing and gain-sharing plan unique in the industry. And have the opportunity to share information and contribute ideas at every level of management.

This new spirit of cooperation will not merely benefit labor or management. The real benefit is to our customers. Because the better we at National work together, the better all our products will become.

And when it comes to quality, we're never satisfied.

Quality. We're never satisfied.

Church news

Church histories traced 130 years in local talk

The early history of local churches was reviewed by Homer Huber at a meeting of the Old Six Mile Historical Society this spring.

As a part of the history of the Quad-City Area, Huber has collected many facts about the establishment of the churches, where they were built and by whom.

With the use of slides and narration, he told of the pioneer Kinderhook Church. After the first railroad was built through Six Mile Prairie in 1856, a railroad station was built on the Kinder farm and was named Kinder Station.

Some people began calling the locality around the station Kinder, the speaker said.

"Mr. Kinder was active in school and church affairs. When a new school was needed as well as a church, he suggested erecting a new building which could be used for both a church and a school," Huber said.

In 1858 this building was erected with school rooms on the first floor and a church sanctuary on the second floor, on the campus that later became the site of the present Granite City High School.

Some people objected because they felt he had used school money to build the church. They said that he had "hooked" school money to build the church, and the community thereafter was called Kinderhook.

They also objected to the bell in the steeple; the gathering was told. They thought that the peaceful setting of the new community had been invaded by the peal of the church bell.

Huber said the old church deserved recognition because several congregations met in the building before becoming fully organized and constructing their own facilities. Included were St. Peter Evangelical and Reformed Church, the Immanuel Congregational Church and Presbyterians.

In 1880, Lutherans purchased the church from the Methodists. But in 1892, when the Niedringhaus family came to develop this area, they bought the church and used it until 1902, when a new Methodist church, Niedringhaus Church, was built on a residential drive at 20th Street and Delamain Avenue.

A cornerstone showing the date

1902 is on display and the old bell has been preserved.

During the Civil War, on June 28, 1862, a total of Ben Wood School to organize the St. John congregation grew. A new steeple was installed this year.

A site of two acres was donated by Henry Ruvisch and a small frame church to serve 150 members was erected at a cost of $1,052.

In 1864, three acres were purchased for a cemetery and a parsonage.

In 1871, when the church was destroyed by fire, the congregation rebuilt the structures.

This congregation grew and a new church was built in 1881. In 1924, fire destroyed its interior.

A basement structure was completed in December 1938 and the sanctuary was completed in 1941, with a educational building dedicated in 1951.

This church, now St. John United Church of Christ, has been in continuous existence here for 124 years, longer than any other church in the area. Once situated far out in the country, it is now in the heart of Granite City.

The first house of worship of the Concordia Lutheran Church was a small frame structure which was replaced by a brick structure in 1900, located at 20th Street and Grand.

The congregation grew with the city and in 1924 owned a church, a parsonage, a school, a hall and two lots adjoining the school, valued at $35,000. The church at that time had a membership of 550 and a Sunday school enrollment of 200.

The church was erected as a hospital in 1904 but had to close in 1911 when it went bankrupt. It was reopened and is operated today as St. Elizabeth Medical Clinic.

Led by W.W. Barnes, a campaign was held to erect a church. The cornerstone was laid in 1904 and had a membership of 22. In four years the membership climbed to 550. At the beginning, the congregation held services in a large tent until a large wooden barn-like structure was built.

Since then, come a new brick building with a basement and seating capacity for 1,000 has been erected. There is a large parking area and a sign about 50 feet in height facing Madison Avenue near 24th Street. Day care for children was organized in 1901. Services were held in a school room until the church was erected in 1903. A parsonage, educational building and parking lot were added as the congregation grew. A new steeple was installed this year.

Huber said he feels close to this church because he was confirmed and baptized in St. Peter Church by the Rev. Kofer.

After holding a series of weekly meetings at the Kinderhook Church, the First Presbyterian Church was organized in 1906 when 12 members signed a petition on Easter Sunday.

By 1907 the congregation was meeting in the basement of the church. In 1915 a second story was added. Pews were installed and the interior was decorated. By 1928, the congregation numbered 1,205.

A small group of people started the Central Christian Church in North Venice in 1901. In 1902 they transferred to Madison and had meeting in the summer. In 1903 a hall was secured in Granite City. In 1906, when a lot was donated by the Niedringhaus trustees at the corner of 22nd and State streets. The church building was constructed the same year and used for many years.

St. Joseph Catholic Church and School was organized by the Rev. William Murphy in 1907 at 21st Street and Edelman Avenue. In 1913, because of increased enrollment, the buildings were expanded. Nuns from Springfield were the school teachers.

The first new church was built with a seating capacity of 800. The interior is a work of art, Huber said. The property at that time had a membership of 550 and a Sunday school enrollment of 200.

The church was erected as a hospital in 1904 but had to close in 1911 when it went bankrupt. It was reopened and is operated today as St. Elizabeth Medical Clinic.

The Assembly of God Tabernacle opened in 1929 and had a membership of 22. In four years the membership climbed to 550. At the beginning, the congregation held services in a large tent until a large wooden barn-like structure was built.

Since then, come a new brick building with a basement and seating capacity for 1,000 has been erected.

There is a large parking area and a sign about 50 feet in height facing Madison Avenue near 24th Street. Day care for children has become part of the program there, the historical society was told.

The Christian Science Church was founded in 1896 and was organized by the mother church of Boston in 1879.

In 1915, 45 people of the Granite City area gathered at Mrs. Close's home for worship. In 1916, the congregation moved to the Odd Fellows Building where a Sunday school and a reading room were started.

Later, the reading room was located downtown in the Fleishman Building, then the Morris Building and in 1946, it had been located in the Washington Theater building.

The present Christian Science church on Delmar Avenue was started in 1931. Until the church was completed in 1933, worship services were held in the basement. By 1940, the debt was paid in full.

Huber also mentioned the missions of Granite City. The Hungarian Baptist Mission organized in 1915 was located on Pauline and Polk Streets. After 1931, it had been located in the Washington Theater building.

The Gospel (Bethel) Mission at 20th and Omaha streets was known as the "Mission below the Mill." It was founded by Bethel Davis, who served as a superintendent.

New Salem sets Little Rock trip

By Valerie Eviden Staff writer

Reservations are due June 22 for anyone wishing to take part in a weekend excursion to Little Rock, Ark., sponsored by New Salem Missionary Baptist Church of Venice.

The trip is scheduled for the weekend of July 25-27, according to Dr. Rev. John Henry Williams, New Salem pastor, who stressed the June 22 deadline for reservations.

"Everyone is welcome to join us on the trip," he said.

The cost of the excursion includes the cost of roundtrip transportation on a chartered bus and overnight accommodation at the Day's Inn Motel in Little Rock. Meals are not included in the price.

"We will be leaving the church late Friday night, July 25, and will return late Sunday, July 27," Rev. Williams said.

The group has been invited to attend Sunday morning worship services at First Baptist Church in North Little Rock, where the Rev. Williams Robinson is pastor.

Some time will be spent sightseeing in the Little Rock area, Rev. Williams said.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Thelma Thompson at 452-3039, or Ruby Johnson at 451-2483.

The $65 per person must be paid at New Salem Church, 1349 Klein St., Venice, by Sunday, June 22, the minister said.

Church of Christ vacation 'school'

Children and adults of all ages are invited to attend vacation Bible school, June 23 through June 27, at the Pontoon Beach Church of Christ, 4039 Pontoon Road.

First Christian Church, 2908 Marion River Rd., is working with Pontoon Beach church to present this year's school, which will take place at the Pontoon Beach church building.

It is expected to be the biggest and most complete vacation Bible school in recent years, said Jerry Britt, minister at First Christian Church.

Classes will be offered for all ages, including adults, and a nursery will be provided.

Transportation will be available, if needed, the minister said.

To arrange for a ride or to get further information, interested persons are invited to call 931-5655.

County Baptists announce summer events

The Madison County Baptist Association has announced several events of interest to area congregations.

A ministers' and wives' fellowship is planned for 4:30 p.m. Saturday, June 21, at Bethesda Baptist Church, 3035 Nameoki Drive.

After July 1, 1987, churches in Illinois will no longer be able to use a letter ruling for tax exemption purposes, but will be required to have a tax-exempt identification number.

The churches are to send a copy of their charter and bylaws or constitution and bylaws and a copy of the church's tax-exempt letter ruling to the Illinois Department of Revenue, Lincoln Services Bureau, Level 5, 101 W. Jefferson St., Springfield, Ill. 62708.

A state historical tour is planned for Aug. 15 and 16 under the direction of the Rev. Frank Trotter of Marion. Stops will be made at mission work in Northern Illinois.

The Metro East Association and MCBA will share a 47-passenger bus. Cost of the trip per person is $80, including bus fare and meal. Those who wish to contribute are to send checks in the amount of $50 to Earl Phelps, 4804 Warnecke Ave., Granite City, no later than July 1. The contact person is Phelps at 931-3177, L.D. Patrick, director of the MCBA, said.

Comeback falls short, GSM drops 4th straight, 7-5

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Any team that falls behind 6-0 in the first two innings certainly accomplishes something if it can bring the winning run to the plate in the last inning.

"Unfortunately, that was all the Granite Sheet Metal Junior Legion team could accomplish Thursday as they lost their fourth straight game, 7-5, to Afton (Mo.)."

"We've been doing that a lot lately," Granite manager Jim Nelson said of his team's habit of falling way behind in the early innings. "Still, we almost came back."

"Granite trailed 7-4 going into the seventh inning when Chris Hampshire left off with his third hit of the game. Allen Norton walked to bring the tying run to the plate against Afton relief pitcher Mike Waller, who replaced John Vonderhaar in the fourth inning.

Second baseman Brian Behrens made the play of the game, diving for Craig Dippel's grounder up the middle for a forceout. John Moad had a single and Bill pitch scored one run. Dan Robertson walked on a close 3-2 pitch to put the tying run on, and he moved in to scoring position by stealing second.

"But Waller fanned John Narup on the outside breaking ball to end the game."

Granite got good relief pitching from Mike Krausz and Narup to keep Afton at bay, but Moad had trouble finding the plate in the first inning and was hit hard in the second as Afton built a quick 6-0 lead.

"John just wasn't right tonight," Nelson said. "Of course, he's playing both for us and Dave Coakley's team (Senior Legion), so he's doing a lot of things."

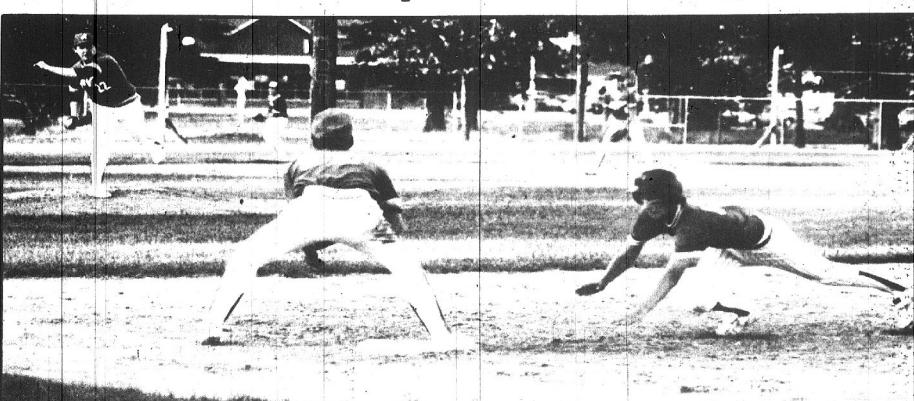

The first five Afton batters reached base again in the first four innings. Fortunately, Kevin Schnurbush, the leadoff hitter, was thrown out stealing after a single. But Ray Moyer tripped to left field, and Moad walked the next three batters to force a run.

Jeff Fowler hit into a force play as Behrens scored. Then, first baseman Tony Mino also scored all the way from second as first baseman Mike Krausz' throw home was too late.

Afton, now 8-3 on the year, continued to score in Moad in the second. Tim Cochran singled to right, stole both second and third and scored on Moyer's hit which was trapped by Rich Nelson in center field. Moyer stole second and rode home on a double by Behrens, who also scored on a hit by catcher Craig Miller.

Miller's hit came off of Krausz, who relieved Moad. The big right-hander allowed three hits and three walks in 2 1/2 innings, but escaped trouble thanks to our strides.

"Mike threw really well after he was in there for a while," Nelson said. "And John Narup was outstanding for us. He has good velocity and good control."

BACK IN TIME: Afton pitcher John Vonderhaar throws over to first as Granite Sheet Metal third baseman Chris Hampshire retreats safely. First baseman Tony Mino Narup pitched the last three innings, striking out two, walking two and allowing no hits. One of the walks, however, led to an unearned run in the sixth. Narup three wildly on a pickup attempt of Behrens, who went to second. He moved to third on an infield hit and scored on a passed ball by Dippel.

awaits the throw during Thursday night's game at Varsity Field. Hampshire had three hits and an RBI, but it wasn't enough as Granite lost, 7-5.

Granite began to peek away at Afton, led by third baseman Jeff Granite scored on Hampshire's single to right center. Kory Burton walked, but Lance Jakich grounded to second to end the threat.

Granite knocked Vonderhaar out in the fourth when they got three runs, again getting them

Lady Luck frowns on Triplets 7-3 loss

By Gary King
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — So there's nothing to Friday the 13th jinx, you say?

Well, neither did the Tri-City Post 113 American Legion team; that is until Friday.

The Triplets capped a day that had been filled with misfortunate happenings by dropping a 7-3 decision to the Granite Junior Optimists on Thursday night. Granite, which was Tri-City's third in their first four contests, seemed almost inevitable.

Let's examine the chain of events that transpired before and during the ballgame.

Friday's starting Triplet starting second baseman Scott Coakley loses his wallet; then in the second inning of Friday's contest, he boots a routine grounder which allows Collingsville to post their first two runs of the beginning. Said Coakley, "This was the worst day of my life. I hate Friday the 13th."

• Scott LeVault, the Triplets' starting first baseman, was absent for the second game in a row due to a case of the chicken pox.

• The start of Friday's game was delayed by about an hour because the umpire, Edwardsburg's Dave Vieth, had not yet arrived. Finally, Ed Bowen, father of Triplet pitcher Mark Bowen, assumed the duties. Vieth arrived at 7:30, an hour and a half after the game had started, and stated that he had been told the game was not to begin until 8:30.

After tossing a five-hitter in a 13-0 win for the Granite City Optimists Junior Legion last Saturday, Triplet starting pitcher Darin Hendrickson allowed eight hits and six runs — four of which were earned — in only four and two-thirds innings against Friday's opponents.

In case you haven't already gotten the picture, lady luck just wasn't winking at the Triplets Friday.

After pounding out 10 hits in their first win of the season against Bettendorf Wednesday, the Tri-City bats were MIA Friday, as Collingsville starter John Sherry scattered three hits over six innings of work. And despite surrendering four walks while fanning only one, Sherry managed to set the Triplets down in order three times.

Ironically, things began well for Tri-City, as center fielder Tim Hogan gave the Triplets an early lead when he crossed the plate on a wild-pitch from Sherry in the first inning after leading off the inning with a walk.

But the advantage was short-lived, as Coakley's error on Keith Brooks' grounder allowed Collingsville designated hitter Joe Lang to score the world's day of my life. I hate Friday the 13th."
